Narberth to Battle Brookline Leaders

Davismen in Fourth Place; Lose to Gladwyne, Win Two Other Games

MOUNDSMEN STEADYING

Buried in fourth place as the result of holiday week-end battles, Narberth will attempt to pull the unexpected tomorrow when Brookline's undefeated pacesetters are met on the community field diamond.

Manager Gene Davis' defending champs, who won two of their tilts over Memorial Day and Sunday, are primed to attempt what few Main Line League fans think them capable of—handing Eddie Hare's sluggers their initial defeat in six starts. The outlook is bright from a Narberth standpoint only if we look at past records of the success the boroughites have had when meeting the Hare aggregation.

Two Games Here

On Sunday Davis will send his tossers into action against Downingtown in a game slated for the local ball orchard. Downingtown, managed by Ed Sheridan, is undecided whether it or Coatesville rightfully deserves the cellar berth. Both have lost five games and have won on only one occasion.

Narberth showed a complete reversal of form in its games with Gladwyne and Malvern on Memorial Day. Gladwyne visited the borough field in the morning and trounced the Davismen by 13-6 figures.

Narberth came back later to crush Malvern, 20-0. Al Herrmann, rugged right-hander, was in rare form when he allowed only two hits and set down 14 on strikes. Harry Ralston was the hitting star with two home runs and as many singles in five at-bats.

Sunday added the second victory which gives the townsmen a record of three wins and the same number of defeats for a .500 average. West Phillies, early sensations who dropped both halves of the holiday twin bill, was a 6-3 victim of the Davismen at Narberth. Credit for pitching Gene's gang to a tidy decision goes to Jim McKee, lanky right-hander.

McKee in Form

McKee worked in the best form he has shown this season. Although West Phillies got to him for seven safe blows, he never was in trouble after his teammates took over the reins in the third with a three-run rally. McKee struck out eight and issued only one pass, which is unusual for him.

Harry Ralston, mite leftfielder, again was the leading man with the lumber. He blasted a timely triple in the third and also collected a bingle. Johnny Brennan, who played well in the field during all three games, had two singles as his lot.

Commissioners Favor Regulation of Realty

Convention Also Would Have State Pay for Road-Condemed Property

DR. SEIDEL IS HONORED

A resolution favoring the control of speculative real estate developments was adopted at the convention of Pennsylvania's township commissioners in Philadelphia this week. Other resolutions passed included one asking that the State exempt townships from the payment of 4 cents gasoline tax, one opposing any attempt by the State to place the relief burden on first-class townships, and one proposing an act that would require the State to pay property damage when land is condemned for the widening or improvement of a State highway.

The last mentioned is of importance to Lower Merion in view of the proposed widening of Lancaster pike through the Bryn Mawr business district.

Dr. Charles H. Seidel, Bryn Mawr Commissioner, was named chairman of the by-laws committee.

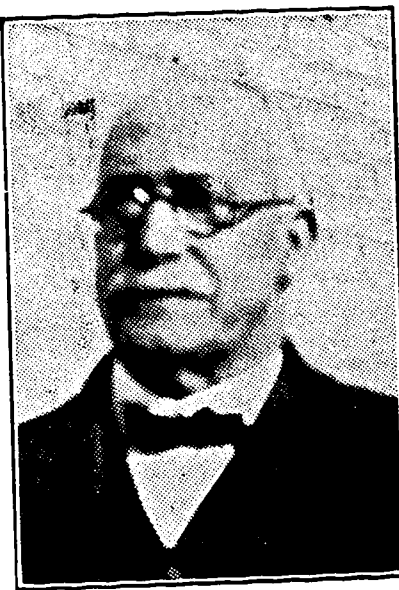

Attending the sessions from Lower Merion Township either as representatives or guests were:

P. T. A. Luncheon is 10th

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Narberth Public School will hold a luncheon next Wednesday. For reservations phone Narberth 2825.

Has Birthday

LUTHER C. PARSONS
of Parsons avenue, Cynwyd, hale and hearty oldest life-time resident of Bala-Cynwyd and one of the oldest in Lower Merion, who is being congratulated on the occasion of his 78th birthday, Tuesday, June 2.

Communities Honor War Dead's Memory

Parade, Open House, Addresses Mark Memorial Day

GRAVES ARE DECORATED

Narberth honored the men who have fought and died for their country with the borough's annual Memorial Day parade last Saturday, followed by a flag raising and services at the Community Playground on Windsor avenue.

Occupying a place of honor in the procession was Henry Doll, Narberth's only surviving Civil War veteran, who served on Admiral Farragut's flagship. Also in the line of march were members of the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion; Legion Auxiliary, D. A. R., Gold Star Mothers, Borough Council, Narberth Fire Company, Mulieres, Boy and Girl Scouts, Narberth Cub Pack and school children.

Furnishing the music was Germantown's Huston Drum and Bugle Corps, who also gave a drill at the playground.

In Bala-Cynwyd, the Rev. Franklin Duncombe, pastor of the Bala-Cynwyd Methodist Church, was speaker at ceremonies held at the War Memorial, Bala avenue and State road. Graves were decorated by members of the Thomas Vandiver Post, who later held open house at their headquarters. A baseball game between Legionnaires and Boy Scouts featured the day at the Merion War Tribute House.

At the Ashland school grounds, West Manayunk, W. Russell Green, Narberth, Montgomery County solicitor, was speaker, with Peter C. Hess, Lower Merion Township treasurer, as master of ceremonies.

Hess Favored to Direct County Presidential Campaign

Peter C. Hess, Lower Merion's Republican leader, is being mentioned as the probable leader of the Montgomery County G. O. P. during the Presidential campaign this summer and fall. It is held in many quarters that selection of Hess, a strategist and diplomat, would ease the tension between Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Norristown publisher and convention delegate, and State Senator Theodore Lane Bean, titular head of the Republican Harmony Committee.

Circle Heads Meet

The Executive Committee and the chairman of the Westminster Circle of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will give their annual luncheon at 1 P. M. Thursday, June 11, on the lawn of the home of Mrs. C. H. Nold, 100 Wynnedale road.

Wins Dramatic Scholarship

Miss Betty McConnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace I. McConnell, of Merion avenue, Narberth, has been awarded a scholarship to the Dramatic School of Temple University. There were 68 competitors and the award was given for individual try-outs.

Main Line Building Continues Increase

Five-Month Total $1,438,795, With $178,764 Upturn During May

$500,000.00 DEVELOPMENT

For the first five months of 1936, building in Lower Merion Township is nearly double that of the same period in 1935. According to Building Inspector C. E. Rahn's monthly report, the total for the current period, $1,438,795, exceeds last year's figures by $701,032.

Permits were issued in May for twenty-four single family dwellings at a total estimated cost of $363,215. Six permits were issued in Cynwyd for a total of $28,900, eleven in General Wayne, $86,700; three in Merion, $719, and seven in Penceyod, $25,020.

Approximately ten acres, bounded by City Line, Copes Lane Friends' Central School and the Green Hill Farms golf course, Lower Merion Township, has been sold by the estate of Morris Wood to John Sheldrake, Inc., builders. It is planned to improve the land with twenty-two houses of various types at a total investment, including the tract, of approximately $500,000. The new owners already have received bids for several of the houses.

Frank W. Cortright has sold for R. D. McGuffin a stone English type house on Ballymore road, Wynnewood, to H. R. Palmer. It was held for sale at $40,000. The same broker reports settlement made by Joseph A. McDevitt, with the estate of Isaac Clothier, for a number of building sites on Ballymore road. The plots are being improved with Colonial houses selling for $28,000.

Rotary Sees Byrd Films

Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club members forgot it was June Tuesday at their meeting in the Overbrook Golf Club when Walter G. Case presented talking films of Admiral Byrd's Antarctic Expedition.

Next Tuesday's speaker will be John H. Jefferies, General Wayne District Commissioner, who will talk on the dog quarantine and athletics.

Walter J. Scott has been admitted to Rotary as a new member.

Democratic Bridge is 13th

A bridge party for the benefit of their charity fund will be given by the Democratic Committee Women of Lower Merion Township and the Borough of Narberth at 2 P. M., June 13, at the residence of Mrs. E. Waring Wilson, Montgomery and Rosemont avenues, Rosemont. Tickets at $1 may be procured from the Democratic committee in the local district or from Mrs. Wilson. There will be a prize for each table and refreshments will be served.

Rod and Gun Outing is This Saturday

Annual spring outing of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club will be held this Saturday, June 6, despite last week's report in this paper (whose writer is about to go on vacation). It will be held at County Commissioner W. D. Ridgeway's Hollowridge Farm, in Bethayres.

Events will include trap and small bore shooting, surf, fly and bait casting, water boiling and children's events. The public is invited, on payment of a small fee. Children will be cared for. Refreshments will be a real treat.

Field Captain is Wayne D. Burnside. Rod and Gun president is John A. Miller.

Penn Valley Garden Club Will Elect Officers 8th

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Penn Valley Garden Club will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. John A. Lafore, Penn Valley Farms, Penn Valley. A buffet luncheon will be served at 12.30. A surprise program will follow.

Dog Under Observation

Dr. S. B. Apt, Cynwyd veterinarian, has under observation a dog belonging to Mrs. Richard Chew, Conshohocken State road, Bala-Cynwyd, following a report that the animal was bitten by a rabid dog which later was shot in Narberth by Sergeant Charles Girvin and Officer Brady Utz.

Lawn Party Tonight

A lawn party will be given this evening at the Old Merion Friends' Meeting house from five to eight o'clock for the benefit of the Friends' Neighborhood Guild. Suppers will be served, there will be a fashion show of old-fashioned costumes, and an exhibition of boy scouts.

Players' Outing Tuesday

The annual outing of the Narberth Players, given by the president, Mr. B. G. Simpson, of Woodside avenue, will be a picnic and swimming party at Martin's Dam Tuesday, June 9, for the members and their guests.

Veterans' Bonus Bonds

Next week this paper will give local details of the delivery and certification of World War veterans' bonus bonds. They will be announced by the local post office officials.

Junior Dance Tomorrow

The Junior Women's Community Club of Narberth will give its final dance of the season at the Overbrook Golf Club this Saturday, with music by the Mazda Lane Orchestra. Tickets are $1.50. Mrs. Betty Caldwell is chairman of the dance committee.

Quarantine on Dogs Will be Continued

State Regulations in Force to July 1; Veterinarian Examinations Modified

HEALTH BOARD MEETS

Lower Merion's dog quarantine will continue at least until the State quarantine ends, which is July 1. This was decided upon at the June meeting of the Township Board of Health. Narberth Borough, which has cooperated with the township authorities, probably will also continue its quarantine.

It was decided, however, not to carry on the extensive re-examinations of dogs which have bitten persons. Julius Ziegert, president of the Township Commissioners, urged that a special watch be kept for strays along City Line avenue since Philadelphia has no quarantine in effect now.

The Board of Health rejected a proposal of the Main Line Branch of the Montgomery County Medical Society that German measles be removed from the list of reportable diseases after Dr. Richard A. Kern stated that symptoms of the disease were similar to those of scarlet fever and measles. A total of 138 contagious cases was reported for May. Satisfactory reports were made on drinking water and ice cream plants. According to Dr. David Wilbur Horn, township chemist, Lower Merion is saving about $6000 yearly due to the fact that health board regulations forced butter makers to squeeze out 7.3 tons of water from butter sold in 1935 as against the figures in the previous years.

Lower Merion Tonight to Graduate 349 Pupils, School's Largest Class

Wedded 50 Years

Mrs. James A. England, of Sabine avenue, gave a luncheon Tuesday in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hill. The guests were Mrs. C. C. Tyson, Mrs. Howard Cotter, Sr., Mrs. Howard Cotter, Jr., and her children, Louise and Howard Cotter, 3d, Mrs. Guy Watton, of Oak lane, and Miss Sadie L. Jones and Frederick Wills, of Wilkes-Barre. Mr. and Mrs. England and Mr. and Mrs. Hill spent the week-end aboard their yacht, the Louise, cruising on the Chesapeake Bay.

Orchestra Closes Season

Closing its fourteenth season, the Main Line Orchestra, under the baton of Adolph Vogel, Narberth, played its final concert in Goodhart Hall, Bryn Mawr College, last Friday evening. Ruth Oehler, pianist, was soloist.

Plans for next season will be announced soon, according to Joseph Mickle, Bala-Cynwyd, its business manager.

D. A. R. Party 16th

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of N. S. D. A. R., will hold its annual garden and bridge party on June 16 on the lawn of the home of the newly-elected regent, Mrs. Franklin R. Lindsay, 61 Wynnedale road. Reservations may be made by calling Narberth 2494.

Covered Dish Luncheon

The Women's Bible Class of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will hold a Covered Dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Archer Anderson, on Dudley avenue, next Tuesday at one o'clock.

Alumnae Supper 11th

The Philadelphia Alumnae of the Gamma Phi Beta will celebrate the first anniversary of the founding of the organization with a picnic supper at the home of Miss Virginia Hildreth, 429 Owen road, Wynnewood, Thursday, June 11.

Schools of Main Line Announce Closing Dates

Main Line institutions of learning all will be closed by the middle of June. Dates of graduation or closing are:

- June 5—Lower Merion High School, Holman School, Friends' Central.
- June 6—Haverford College.
- June 7—Waldron Academy.
- June 8—Bryn Mawr College, Haverford School.
- June 9—Mater Misericordiae, Convent of the Sacred Heart, Lower Merion Junior High School.
- June 10—Shipley School, Villa Maria Academy and Conservatory.
- June 16—Narberth Public Schools.

Seniors' Fortieth Annual Commencement Exercises at Junior High Auditorium

GILFERT GIVES PRIZES

Lower Merion Senior High School this evening will graduate its largest class in the school's history, with 349 students receiving diplomas. The number is sixteen more than last year's previous "largest class." The fortieth annual commencement exercises will be held in the Junior High School auditorium, beginning at 8.15 o'clock.

The commencement program follows:

Salutatory, Nelson Bucher. Invocation, Rev. Louis W. Pitt, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Ardmore.

"The Value of the Past to the Youth of the Present," Jacqueline Link.

Lower Merion High School Orchestra.

"The Youth Movement," Leonard Warren.

Class song. (Words by Jacqueline Link and Joy Grubbs. Music by Herbert Truckess.)

Awarding of prizes by George H. Gilbert, principal, Senior High School.

Among the awards to be given are: Ardmore Women's Club prize in sewing; Dechan poetry prize; the Down's cup for the most helpful girl; the Ferriera prizes for excellence in physical education; music, commercial, English or mechanical drawing prize; girl house maker award; United States History Medal; Pennypacker Cup for most helpful boy, and the Phi Beta Kappa Association of Philadelphia award.

Scholarships will be presented as follows: Bryn Mawr Woman's Club prize, Elizabeth Scott; Beaver College, Roberta Cleaver, Rosemont, Mary Kavanagh; Bessie V. Hick's School of Drama, Jane Elzey.

Senior Choral Ensemble.

Valedictory, Joy Virginia Grubbs. Graduation address and presentation of diplomas by E. E. Burlingame, president of the Lower Merion School Board.

Benediction, the Rev. Mr. Pitt. On Sunday the baccalaureate services were held in the Lower Merion High School auditorium.

Dr. A. E. Clattenburg, pastor of St. John's Church, Bala-Cynwyd, in his sermon urged the 350 seniors and 500 parents and guests present to hold to their ideals. The apparent external changes in our ethics, he said, are not necessarily an intrinsic overturn of principles.

The Rev. Allan MacLachlan Frew, pastor of the Ardmore Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.

Lower Merion's school chorus sang two numbers.

Lower Merion Holds Ivy Day and Elections

At the Ivy Day exercises of the Lower Merion Senior High School Wednesday, Paul Chandler, senior class president, presented the graduating class gift, a suite of furniture for the main office of the senior high school. Fortunately the furniture van arrived just in time for the presentation. It was accepted by Principal George H. Gilbert. E. E. Burlingame, president of the township school board, addressed the students. Participating in the Ivy Day program were the class officers and Bobby Cleaver, Bill Humes, Mary Griffith, Tom McMahon and Hale Pratt.

Hale Pratt, class president in both his freshman and sophomore years, will also be president of next year's senior class.

Harrison Berry is the new president of the National Honor Society and also vice-president of the senior class. Evelyn McGarvey and Samuel Pruitt will be secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Shirley Cleaver, captain-elect of the hockey team, was chosen vice-president of the honor society.

Hear Talk on G-Men

Members of the Merion Post, American Legion, Tuesday night heard A. G. Schroeder, assistant chief of the Philadelphia office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, described the duties and work of Uncle Sam's G-Men. Harold W. Scott, post commander, presided.

Narberth School News

The results of field days May 22 were 141 to 99 in favor of the Grays.

On May 23 a large number of people filled our auditorium to see the fashion shows. The eighth grade girls displayed dresses which they made in sewing class and the seventh grade girls displayed pajamas which they had made. A few girls then displayed "what the modern girls wear today." Some of Mr. Knoll's shop class then showed some articles which they made in shop. Many people afterwards went to the rooms to see the displays.

The eighth grade science class went to the Academy of Natural Science on Monday, June 1. They saw many different groups of precious stones, animals, fish and some skeletons of prehistoric animals.

School ends on Tuesday, June 16, for the summer.

Summer school begins on July 6, grades 4 to 8, inclusive.

22 Receive Diplomas at Montgomery School

Diplomas were received Wednesday by twenty-two seniors at the Montgomery School, Wynnewood, from the Rev. Gibson Bell, rector of All Saints' Church.

Awarded to Albert E. Kennedy, 3d, son of Mrs. H. B. Collins, Wynnewood, was the Trustees' Medal, one of the institution's highest honors. Kennedy was captain of the basketball team and vice-president of the Signifier, honorary society. The medal is given by vote of the Upper Forms to the student who is believed to have had the best influence in school life during the year.

Similar honors went to Edward V. Dillon, Cynwyd, Fourth Form, and S. Bowman Wheeler, 3d, Rosemont, Fifth Form, whose names will be inscribed on the Middle School Cup.

Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, who this spring resigned as a member of the Haverford College faculty, spoke.

Robert C. McAdoo, Merion, won the Signifier Society Medal for scholarship in the first three forms; Stephen G. Schwartz, Wynnewood, the Athletic Medal.

Summer Dances at the Colonial Village Pools

Commencing the smartest series of summer dances on the Main Line, the Colonial Village Swimming Club of Wayne, announces that their first Saturday night club function will be June 13 with a dance starting at nine o'clock.

With music that will make the grown-ups really believe that "life begins at forty," and the younger ones "that life isn't so serious after all," the club offers to members and guests a rare dancing spot.

An out-door dance floor extending over the cool, pure waters of the Colonial Village, bordered with twinkling, brightly colored lights glowing from daintily painted Japanese lanterns, presents one of the coolest retreats for those who wish to dance during the hot summer months. Reservations may be made by calling Wayne 129.

For brisk evenings and those nights when old man weather makes you take a walk in the rain, the dances will be held in the spacious clubhouse amidst surroundings that breathe of the rustic hunting lodges. Overhead hang picturesque wagon wheels that date back to the Conestoga wagon days, while over one of the largest open fire places ever to be built in the historic Valley Forge location, a caribou head rests viewing all with proud appearance.

Those nights when life seems at its lowest ebb with your clothes sticking to the body with leech-like tendency, one could not ask for a more perfect swimming spot than the Colonial Village with its mammoth flood lights making night into day. Life guards are on duty at the pool day and night.

For the kiddies, the exclusive wading and bathing pool with plank bottom and with no depth over three feet, awaits their pleasure. Again Miss Cynthia Adams, that well-known swimming expert, will be in complete charge of the children's activities. Miss Adams will also instruct those who wish it in swimming lessons. With a swimming instructor on duty all day and a life guard for the children's personal use who will take care of the little ones if mother wishes to go to town, the Colonial Village Swimming Club extends facilities that are unique. Under the personal supervision of that favorite of the younger set, Leo Curtin, the ever popular football and basketball coach of Radnor High School, the children have much in store for themselves in the shape of the inter-club races and exhibitions. Many innovations for the water sports fans of all ages have been planned for the summer season.

When the children find the swimming too enticing to leave for lunch, marvelous catering facilities are there under the expert direction of Mrs. Marie B. Ward, who, as proprietor of the Anthony Wayne Shop, of Wayne, has provided exacting patrons with most excellent cuisine. There is a separate open-air eating porch located underneath ancient shade trees for the bathers' exclusive use. For further particulars concerning club membership, write to Box 223, Wayne.

Al Jolson at Narberth: "These Three" Tomorrow

"The Singing Kid" plays at Narberth today—an entertaining show with clever direction, sparkling music, rhythm and pep. Al Jolson is in excellent voice. Sybil Jason and Beverly Roberts are delightful. Edward Everett Horton furnishes much of the comedy, and "The Yacht Club Boys" and negro musicians add to the musical background.

"These Three," playing Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, is from the noted stage play by Lillian Hellman, showing the tragic results of malicious lying. The exceptionally fine cast is Miriam Hopkins and Merle Oberon as the two young teachers, Joel McCrea as the young doctor in love with one of them, and little Bonita Granville as the wicked child, seconded by Marcia Mae Jones. Added short subject of note is Mickey Mouse in "Orphans' Picnic."

Next Wednesday, Narberth's cash award night, the feature will be a delightful, wholesome comedy drama—"Every Saturday Night"—with the "Jones Family."

The rest of the week, Narberth will present Shirley Temple and Guy Kibbee in "Captain January," along with the new March of Time.

Air Drama at Egyptian: Irvin Cobb and "March of Time" Are Coming Next

Season's high point of movie suspense comes in the transcontinental flight, "Thirteen Hours by Air," in the exciting struggle between the pilot and a passenger bent upon keeping the plane from reaching its destination. The film, now at the Egyptian, nicely balances mystery, suspense and comedy with its love interest. Mechanics of the airplane in flight are interesting, and glimpses of scenery seen in flight are finely photographed. Cast includes Fred MacMurray, Joan Bennett, Zasu Pitts and Alan Baxter.

Also on the program is Walt Disney's "Orphans' Picnic."

Beginning Monday the Egyptian will start its summer policy of matinees every day at 2:15.

"Everybody's Old Man" and "The March of Time" will share honors Monday and Tuesday.

The feature stars Irvin S. Cobb, who injects warmth into the character of a canned goods king who at sixty-odd takes a new lease on life when he brings order into the conduct and business of his dead rival's children. "The March of Time," brand new for the Main Line, tells of "Railroad fares slashed! Why?" "Relief—biggest national problem," and "After Ethiopia—what?" (League of Nations).

Wednesday and (Bank Night) Thursday the Egyptian will present Warner Baxter in the dramatic story of Lincoln's assassination, and thus innocently was implicated as his accomplice to become "The Prisoner of Shark Island."

"Give Us This Night" will follow—the beautiful voices of Jan Kiepura and Gladys Swarthout.

Tax Unit Comparisons Effect Public Savings

A simple plan by which citizens can get reductions in local taxes is described by Alexander Biddle, Philadelphia banker, who lives in Bryn Mawr, in the current issue of Rockefeller Center Weekly. Biddle is chairman of the Pennsylvania Economy League.

Uniformity is the basis of the plan. Through a fact-finding organization Biddle made a survey of taxing units of Pennsylvania, finding 5635 of them. Comparisons then were made of the costs of tax collection in all the different classifications of like size.

Wherever the results revealed an extremely high cost agents of the league and members in the community sat down with the tax collectors and showed them how costs were being kept down in other towns, boroughs or townships.

A total saving of $2,018,250 has been shown by this process in thirty communities over a period of twelve months. State-wide application of the plan, according to Biddle, will show savings of ten to twenty times that sum.

Every State can do it, he says, pointing out that in four years Indiana has saved her taxpayers more than a hundred million dollars by the same method.

Elected to Society

Miss Jean Byall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Byall, of Bryn Mawr avenue, Penn Valley, was recently elected to the Bowling Green Dramatic Society of the University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Byall took part in a play produced by the society shortly after the spring vacation.

At Hedgerow Theatre

Hedgerow Theatre at Moylan tonight and Saturday presents Dreiser's "An American Tragedy." Monday, Shaw's "St. Joan." Tuesday, Molnar's "Lilium." Wednesday, Cox's "Kit Marlowe." Thursday, Giacosa's "Like Falling Leaves." Next Friday, Sean O'Casey's "The Plough and the Stars."

This paper welcomes communications on timely subjects.

Announces Engagement

Mrs. M. F. R. Clay, of Bar Harbor, Me., and Nice, France, announces the engagement of her niece, Mrs. Howard Kennedy Hill, of Old Barn, Villanova, and Mr. Maurice Bourgeois duMarais, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tristan B. duMarais, of Narberth, and grandson of the late Vicomte and Vicomtesse Edouard B. duMarais, of Paris.

Renovized

Considerable favorable comment has been aroused by the modern new offices of Durbin and Howard, at what they have termed "1 Station Circle," Narberth. The designing and work that vastly improved the former White's Sweet Shop bake shop to the rear of Shea's Drug Store, was done by George W. Bottoms and Son, 501 S. Narberth avenue, well-known builders, who were responsible for many fine homes in this section.

Narberth to Battle Brookline Leaders

Davismen in Fourth Place; Lose to Gladwyne, Win Two Other Games

MOUNDMEN STEADYING

Buried in fourth place as the result of holiday week-end battles, Narberth will attempt to pull the unexpected tomorrow when Brookline's undefeated pacesetters are met on the community field diamond.

Manager Gene Davis' defending champs, who won two of their tilts over Memorial Day and Sunday, are primed to attempt what few Main Line League fans think them capable of—handing Eddie Hare's sluggers their initial defeat in six starts. The outlook is bright from a Narberth standpoint only if we look at past records of the success the boroughites have had when meeting the Hare aggregation.

Two Games Here

On Sunday Davis will send his tossers into action against Downingtown in a game slated for the local ball orchard. Downingtown, managed by Ed Sheridan, is undecided whether it or Coatesville rightfully deserves the cellar berth. Both have lost five games and have won on only one occasion.

Narberth showed a complete reversal of form in its games with Gladwyne and Malvern on Memorial Day. Gladwyne visited the borough field in the morning and trounced the Davismen by 13-6 figures.

Narberth came back later to crush Malvern, 20-0. Al Herrmann, rugged righthander, was in rare form when he allowed only two hits and set down 14 on strikes. Harry Ralston was the hitting star with two home runs and as many singles in five at-bats.

Sunday added the second victory which gives the townsmen a record of three wins and the same number of defeats for a .500 average. West Phillies, early sensations who dropped both halves of the holiday twin bill, was a 6-3 victim of the Davismen at Narberth. Credit for pitching Gene's gang to a tidy decision goes to Jim McKee, lanky righthander.

McKee in Form

McKee worked in the best form he has shown this season. Although West Phillies got to him for seven safe blows, he never was in trouble after his teammates took over the reins in the third with a three-run rally. McKee struck out eight and issued only one pass, which is unusual for him.

Harry Ralston, mite leftfielder, again was the leading man with the lumber. He blasted a timely triple in the third and also collected a bingle. Johnny Brennan, who played well in the field during all three games, had two singles as his lot.

Commissioners Favor Regulation of Realty

Convention Also Would Have State Pay for Road-Condenned Property

DR. SEIDEL IS HONORED

A resolution favoring the control of speculative real estate developments was adopted at the convention of Pennsylvania's township commissioners in Philadelphia this week. Other resolutions passed included one asking that the State exempt townships from the payment of 4 cents gasoline tax, one opposing any attempt by the State to place the relief burden on first-class townships, and one proposing an act that would require the State to pay property damage when land is condemned for the widening or improvement of a State highway.

The last mentioned is of importance to Lower Merion in view of the proposed widening of Lancaster pike through the Bryn Mawr business district.

Dr. Charles H. Seidel, Bryn Mawr Commissioner, was named chairman of the by-laws committee.

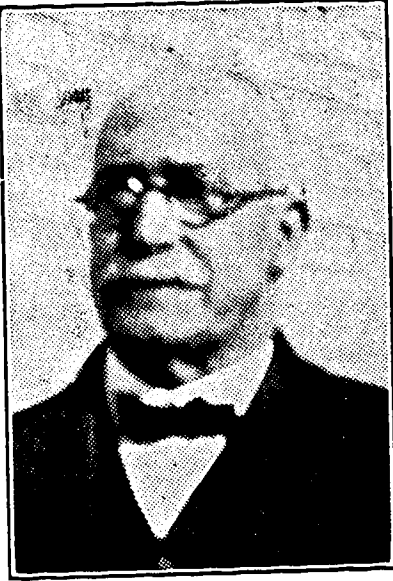

Attending the sessions from Lower Merion Township either as representatives or guests were:

Communities Honor War Dead's Memory

Parade, Open House, Addresses Mark Memorial Day

GRAVES ARE DECORATED

Narberth honored the men who have fought and died for their country with the borough's annual Memorial Day parade last Saturday, followed by a flag raising and services at the Community Playground on Windsor avenue.

Occupying a place of honor in the procession was Henry Doll, Narberth's only surviving Civil War veteran, who served on Admiral Farragut's flagship. Also in the line of march were members of the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion; Legion Auxiliary, D. A. R., Gold Star Mothers, Borough Council, Narberth Fire Company, Mulieres, Boy and Girl Scouts, Narberth Cub Pack and school children.

Furnishing the music was Germantown's Huston Drum and Bugle Corps, who also gave a drill at the playground.

In Bala-Cynwyd, the Rev. Franklin Duncombe, pastor of the Bala-Cynwyd Methodist Church, was speaker at ceremonies held at the War Memorial, Bala avenue and State road. Graves were decorated by members of the Thomas Vandiver Post, who later held open house at their headquarters.

A baseball game between Legionnaires and Boy Scouts featured the day at the Merion War Tribute House.

At the Ashland school grounds, West Manayunk, W. Russell Green, Narberth, Montgomery County solicitor, was speaker, with Peter C. Hess, Lower Merion Township treasurer, as master of ceremonies.

Hess Favored to Direct County Presidential Campaign

Peter C. Hess, Lower Merion's Republican leader, is being mentioned as the probable leader of the Montgomery County G. O. P. during the Presidential campaign this summer and fall. It is held in many quarters that selection of Hess, a strategist and diplomat, would ease the tension between Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Norristown publisher and convention delegate, and State Senator Theodore Lane Bean, titular head of the Republican Harmony Committee.

Circle Heads Meet

The Executive Committee and the chairman of the Westminster Circle of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will give their annual luncheon at 1 P. M. Thursday, June 11, on the lawn of the home of Mrs. C. H. Nold, 100 Wynnedale road.

Wins Dramatic Scholarship

Miss Betty McConnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace I. McConnell, of Merion avenue, Narberth, has been awarded a scholarship to the Dramatic School of Temple University. There were 68 competitors and the award was given for individual tryouts.

Main Line Building Continues Increase

Five-Month Total $1,438,795, With $178,764 Upturn During May

$500,000.00 DEVELOPMENT

For the first five months of 1936, building in Lower Merion Township is nearly double that of the same period in 1935. According to Building Inspector C. E. Rahn's monthly report, the total for the current period, $1,438,795, exceeds last year's figures by $701,032.

Permits were issued in May for twenty-four single family dwellings at a total estimated cost of $363,215. Six permits were issued in Cynwyd for a total of $28,900, eleven in General Wayne, $86,700; three in Merion, $719, and seven in Pencoyd, $25,020.

Approximately ten acres, bounded by City Line, Copes Lane Friends' Central School and the Green Hill Farms golf course, Lower Merion Township, has been sold by the estate of Morris Wood to John Sheldrake, Inc., builders. It is planned to improve the land with twenty-two houses of various types at a total investment, including the tract, of approximately $500,000. The new owners already have received bids for several of the houses.

Frank W. Cortright has sold for R. D. McGuffin a stone English type house on Ballymore road, Wynnewood, to H. R. Palmer. It was held for sale at $40,000. The same broker reports settlement made by Joseph A. McDevitt, with the estate of Isaac Clothier, for a number of building sites on Ballymore road. The plots are being improved with Colonial houses selling for $28,000.

Rotary Sees Byrd Films

Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club members forgot it was June Tuesday at their meeting in the Overbrook Golf Club when Walter G. Case presented talking films of Admiral Byrd's Antarctic Expedition.

Next Tuesday's speaker will be John H. Jefferies, General Wayne District Commissioner, who will talk on the dog quarantine and athletics.

Walter J. Scott has been admitted to Rotary as a new member.

Democratic Bridge is 13th

A bridge party for the benefit of their charity fund will be given by the Democratic Committee Women of Lower Merion Township and the Borough of Narberth at 2 P. M., June 13, at the residence of Mrs. E. Waring Wilson, Montgomery and Rosemont avenues, Rosemont. Tickets at $1 may be procured from the Democratic committee in the local district or from Mrs. Wilson. There will be a prize for each table and refreshments will be served.

Rod and Gun Outing is This Saturday

Annual spring outing of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club will be held this Saturday, June 6, despite last week's report in this paper (whose writer is about to go on vacation). It will be held at County Commissioner W. D. Ridgeway's Hollowridge Farm, in Bethayres.

Events will include trap and small bore shooting, surf, fly and bait casting, water boiling and children's events. The public is invited, on payment of a small fee. Children will be cared for. Refreshments will be a real treat.

Field Captain is Wayne D. Burnside. Rod and Gun president is John A. Miller.

Penn Valley Garden Club Will Elect Officers 8th

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Penn Valley Garden Club will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. John A. Lafore, Penn Valley Farms, Penn Valley. A buffet luncheon will be served at 12.30. A surprise program will follow.

Dog Under Observation

Dr. S. B. Apt, Cynwyd veterinarian, has under observation a dog belonging to Mrs. Richard Chew, Conshohocken State road, Bala-Cynwyd, following a report that the animal was bitten by a rabid dog which later was shot in Narberth by Sergeant Charles Girvin and Officer Brady Utz.

Lawn Party Tonight

A lawn party will be given this evening at the Old Merion Friends' Meeting house from five to eight o'clock for the benefit of the Friends' Neighborhood Guild. Suppers will be served, there will be a fashion show of old-fashioned costumes, and an exhibition of boy scouts.

Players' Outing Tuesday

The annual outing of the Narberth Players, given by the president, Mr. B. G. Simpson, of Woodside avenue, will be a picnic and swimming party at Martin's Dam Tuesday, June 9, for the members and their guests.

Veterans' Bonus Bonds

Next week this paper will give local details of the delivery and certification of World War veterans' bonus bonds. They will be announced by the local post office officials.

Junior Dance Tomorrow

The Junior Women's Community Club of Narberth will give its final dance of the season at the Overbrook Golf Club this Saturday, with music by the Mazda Lane Orchestra. Tickets are $1.50. Mrs. Betty Caldwell is chairman of the dance committee.

Quarantine on Dogs Will be Continued

State Regulations in Force to July 1; Veterinarian Examinations Modified

HEALTH BOARD MEETS

Lower Merion's dog quarantine will continue at least until the State quarantine ends, which is July 1. This was decided upon at the June meeting of the Township Board of Health. Narberth Borough, which has cooperated with the township authorities, probably will also continue its quarantine.

It was decided, however, not to carry on the extensive re-examinations of dogs which have bitten persons. Julius Ziege, president of the Township Commissioners, urged that a special watch be kept for strays along City Line avenue since Philadelphia has no quarantine in effect now.

The Board of Health rejected a proposal of the Main Line Branch of the Montgomery County Medical Society that German measles be removed from the list of reportable diseases after Dr. Richard A. Kern stated that symptoms of the disease were similar to those of scarlet fever and measles. A total of 138 contagious cases was reported for May.

Satisfactory reports were made on drinking water and ice cream plants. According to Dr. David Wilbur Horn, township chemist, Lower Merion is saving about $6000 yearly due to the fact that health board regulations forced butter makers to squeeze out 7.3 tons of water from butter sold in 1935 as against the figures in the previous years.

Seniors' Fortieth Annual Commencement Exercises at Junior High Auditorium

GILBERT GIVES PRIZES

Lower Merion Senior High School this evening will graduate its largest class in the school's history, with 349 students receiving diplomas. The number is sixteen more than last year's previous "largest class." The fortieth annual commencement exercises will be held in the Junior High School auditorium, beginning at 8.15 o'clock.

The commencement program follows:

Salutatory, Nelson Bucher. Invocation, Rev. Louis W. Pitt, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Ardmore.

"The Value of the Past to the Youth of the Present," Jacqueline Link.

Lower Merion High School Orchestra.

"The Youth Movement," Leonard Warren.

Class song. (Words by Jacqueline Link and Joy Grubbs. Music by Herbert Truckess.)

Awarding of prizes by George H. Gilbert, principal, Senior High School.

Among the awards to be given are: Ardmore Women's Club prize in sewing; Deehan poetry prize; the Down's cup for the most helpful girl; the Ferriera prizes for excellence in physical education; music, commercial, English or mechanical drawing prize; girl house maker award; United States History Medal; Pennypacker Cup for most helpful boy, and the Phi Beta Kappa Association of Philadelphia award.

Scholarships will be presented as follows: Bryn Mawr Woman's Club prize, Elizabeth Scott; Beaver College, Roberta Cleaver, Rosemont, Mary Kavanagh; Bessie V. Hick's School of Drama, Jane Elzey.

Senior Choral Ensemble.

Valedictory, Joy Virginia Grubbs.

Graduation address and presentation of diplomas by E. E. Burlingame, president of the Lower Merion School Board.

Benediction, the Rev. Mr. Pitt.

On Sunday the baccalaureate services were held in the Lower Merion High School auditorium.

Dr. A. E. Clattenburg, pastor of St. John's Church, Bala-Cynwyd, in his sermon urged the 350 seniors and 500 parents and guests present to hold to their ideals. The apparent external changes in our ethics, he said, are not necessarily an intrinsic overturn of principles.

The Rev. Allan MacLachlan Frew, pastor of the Ardmore Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.

Lower Merion's school chorus sang two numbers.

Lower Merion Holds Ivy Day and Elections

At the Ivy Day exercises of the Lower Merion Senior High School Wednesday, Paul Chandler, senior class president, presented the graduating class gift, a suite of furniture for the main office of the senior high school. Fortunately the furniture van arrived just in time for the presentation. It was accepted by Principal George H. Gilbert. E. E. Burlingame, president of the township school board, addressed the students. Participating in the Ivy Day program were the class officers and Bobby Claver, Bill Humes, Mary Griffith, Tom McMahon and Hale Pratt.

Hale Pratt, class president in both his freshman and sophomore years, will also be president of next year's senior class.

Harrison Berry is the new president of the National Honor Society and also vice-president of the senior class. Evelyn McGarvey and Samuel Pruitt will be secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Shirley Cleaver, captain-elect of the hockey team, was chosen vice-president of the honor society.

Hear Talk on G-Men

Members of the Merion Post, American Legion, Tuesday night heard A. G. Schroeder, assistant chief of the Philadelphia office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, described the duties and work of Uncle Sam's G-Men. Harold W. Scott, post commander, presided.

Narberth School News

The results of field days May 22 were 141 to 99 in favor of the Grays.

On May 23 a large number of people filled our auditorium to see the fashion shows. The eighth grade girls displayed dresses which they made in sewing class and the seventh grade girls displayed pajamas which they had made. A few girls then displayed "what the modern girls wear today." Some of Mr. Knoll's shop class then showed some articles which they made in shop. Many people afterwards went to the rooms to see the displays.

The eighth grade science class went to the Academy of Natural Science on Monday, June 1. They saw many different groups of precious stones, animals, fish and some skeletons of prehistoric animals.

School ends on Tuesday, June 16, for the summer.

Summer school begins on July 6, grades 4 to 8, inclusive.

22 Receive Diplomas at Montgomery School

Diplomas were received Wednesday by twenty-two seniors at the Montgomery School, Wynnewood, from the Rev. Gibson Bell, rector of All Saints' Church.

Awarded to Albert E. Kennedy, 3d, son of Mrs. H. B. Collins, Wynnewood, was the Trustees' Medal, one of the institution's highest honors. Kennedy was captain of the basketball team and vice-president of the Signifier, honorary society. The medal is given by vote of the Upper Forms to the student who is believed to have had the best influence in school life during the year.

Similar honors went to Edward V. Dillon, Cynwyd, Fourth Form, and S. Bowman Wheeler, 3d, Rosemont, Fifth Form, whose names will be inscribed on the Middle School Cup.

Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, who this spring resigned as a member of the Haverford College faculty, spoke.

Robert C. McAdoo, Merion, won the Signifier Society Medal for scholarship in the first three forms; Stephen G. Schwartz, Wynnewood, the Athletic Medal.

Summer Dances at the Colonial Village Pools

Commencing the smartest series of summer dances on the Main Line, the Colonial Village Swimming Club of Wayne, announces that their first Saturday night club function will be June 13 with a dance starting at nine o'clock.

With music that will make the grown-ups really believe that "life begins at forty," and the younger ones "that life isn't so serious after all," the club offers to members and guests a rare dancing spot.

An out-door dance floor extending over the cool, pure waters of the Colonial Village, bordered with twinkling, brightly colored lights glowing from daintily painted Japanese lanterns, presents one of the coolest retreats for those who wish to dance during the hot summer months. Reservations may be made by calling Wayne 129.

For brisk evenings and those nights when old man weather makes you take a walk in the rain, the dances will be held in the spacious clubhouse amidst surroundings that breathe of the rustic hunting lodges. Overhead hang picturesque wagon wheels that date back to the Conestoga wagon days, while over one of the largest open fire places ever to be built in the historic Valley Forge location, a caribou head rests viewing all with proud appearance.

Those nights when life seems at its lowest ebb with your clothes sticking to the body with leech-like tendency, one could not ask for a more perfect swimming spot than the Colonial Village with its mammoth flood lights making night into day. Life guards are on duty at the pool day and night.

For the kiddies, the exclusive wading and bathing pool with plank bottom and with no depth over three feet, awaits their pleasure. Again Miss Cynthia Adams, that well-known swimming expert, will be in complete charge of the children's activities. Miss Adams will also instruct those who wish it in swimming lessons. With a swimming instructor on duty all day and a life guard for the children's personal use who will take care of the little ones if mother wishes to go to town, the Colonial Village Swimming Club extends facilities that are unique. Under the personal supervision of that favorite of the younger set, Leo Curtin, the ever popular football and basketball coach of Radnor High School, the children have much in store for themselves in the shape of the inter-club races and exhibitions. Many innovations for the water sports fans of all ages have been planned for the summer season.

When the children find the swimming too enticing to leave for lunch, marvelous catering facilities are there under the expert direction of Mrs. Marie B. Ward, who, as proprietor of the Anthony Wayne Shop, of Wayne, has provided exacting patrons with most excellent cuisine. There is a separate open-air eating porch located underneath ancient shade trees for the bathers' exclusive use. For further particulars concerning club membership, write to Box 223, Wayne.

Al Jolson at Narberth: "These Three" Tomorrow

"The Singing Kid" plays at Narberth today—an entertaining show with clever direction, sparkling music, rhythm and pep. Al Jolson is in excellent voice. Sybil Jason and Beverly Roberts are delightful. Edward Everett Horton furnishes much of the comedy, and "The Yacht Club Boys" and negro musicians add to the musical background.

"These Three," playing Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, is from the noted stage play by Lillian Hellman, showing the tragic results of malicious lying. The exceptionally fine cast is Miriam Hopkins and Merle Oberon as the two young teachers, Joel McCrea as the young doctor in love with one of them, and little Bonita Granville as the wicked child, seconded by Marcia Mae Jones. Added short subject of note is Mickey Mouse in "Orphans' Picnic."

Next Wednesday, Narberth's cash award night, the feature will be a delightful, wholesome comedy drama—"Every Saturday Night"—with the "Jones Family."

The rest of the week, Narberth will present Shirley Temple and Guy Kibbee in "Captain January," along with the new March of Time.

Air Drama at Egyptian: Irvin Cobb and "March of Time" Are Coming Next

Season's high point of movie suspense comes in the transcontinental flight, "Thirteen Hours by Air," in the exciting struggle between the pilot and a passenger bent upon keeping the plane from reaching its destination. The film, now at the Egyptian, nicely balances mystery, suspense and comedy with its love interest. Mechanics of the airplane in flight are interesting, and glimpses of scenery seen in flight are finely photographed. Cast includes Fred MacMurray, Joan Bennett, Zasu Pitts and Alan Baxter. Also on the program is Walt Disney's "Orphans' Picnic."

Beginning Monday the Egyptian will start its summer policy of matinees every day at 2:15.

"Everybody's Old Man" and "The March of Time" will share honors Monday and Tuesday. The feature stars Irvin S. Cobb, who injects warmth into the character of a canned goods king who at sixty-odd takes a new lease on life when he brings order into the conduct and business of his dead rival's children. "The March of Time," brand new for the Main Line, tells of "Railroad fares slashed! Why?" "Relief—biggest national problem," and "After Ethiopia—what?" (League of Nations).

Wednesday and (Bank Night) Thursday the Egyptian will present Warner Baxter in the dramatic story of Lincoln's assassination, and thus innocently was implicated as his accomplice to become "The Prisoner of Shark Island."

"Give Us This Night" will follow—the beautiful voices of Jan Kiepura and Gladys Swarthout.

Tax Unit Comparisons Effect Public Savings

A simple plan by which citizens can get reductions in local taxes is described by Alexander Biddle, Philadelphia banker, who lives in Bryn Mawr, in the current issue of Rockefeller Center Weekly. Biddle is chairman of the Pennsylvania Economy League.

Uniformity is the basis of the plan. Through a fact-finding organization Biddle made a survey of taxing units of Pennsylvania, finding 5635 of them. Comparisons then were made of the costs of tax collection in all the different classifications of like size.

Wherever the results revealed an extremely high cost agents of the league and members in the community sat down with the tax collectors and showed them how costs were being kept down in other towns, boroughs or townships.

A total saving of $2,018,250 has been shown by this process in thirty communities over a period of twelve months. State-wide application of the plan, according to Biddle, will show savings of ten to twenty times that sum.

Every State can do it, he says, pointing out that in four years Indiana has saved her taxpayers more than a hundred million dollars by the same method.

Elected to Society

Miss Jean Byall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Byall, of Bryn Mawr avenue, Penn Valley, was recently elected to the Bowling Green Dramatic Society of the University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Byall took part in a play produced by the society shortly after the spring vacation.

At Hedgerow Theatre

Hedgerow Theatre at Moylan tonight and Saturday presents Dreiser's "An American Tragedy." Monday, Shaw's "St. Joan." Tuesday, Molnar's "Lilium." Wednesday, Cox's "Kit Marlowe." Thursday, Giacosa's "Like Falling Leaves." Next Friday, Sean O'Casey's "The Plough and the Stars."

Renovized

Considerable favorable comment has been aroused by the modern new offices of Durbin and Howard, at what they have termed "1 Station Circle," Narberth. The designing and work that vastly improved the former White's Sweet Shop bake shop to the rear of Shea's Drug Store, was done by George W. Bottoms and Son, 501 S. Narberth avenue, well-known builders, who were responsible for many fine homes in this section.

VACATION TIME

The air is humming with preparation for vacation good times! A flurry of shopping, a scanning of road maps,—visits to travel bureaus.

But the real preparation for a carefree vacation is putting the house in order before you leave! From attic to cellar, everything should be "just so,"—and in the cellar, that means a binful of coal for next winter's use.

Jeddo-Highland coal, so uniform in natural purity and preparation, is a splendid off-season purchase—because one can count on its dependable performance the moment winter arrives . . . And the saving in dollars means real economy!

Narberth Library Receives International Mind Alcove

The spring installment of the International Mind Alcove, just received at the Narberth Community Library a week or two ago, contains five books of varying appeal. Lincoln Ellsworth's book "Exploring Today" should appeal to young people as well as older readers. The notes given below are quoted from a letter from Amy Hemingway Jones.

"Exploring Today," L. Ellsworth. Lincoln Ellsworth's name has become familiar to everyone through his exploring expeditions, but especially last winter during the long weeks of suspense, when for a time it was thought he had been lost in the snow and ice of the South Pole. This book is one of comment and explanation of the difficulties of exploration, especially in the Arctic regions. It may be easily and quickly read and touches briefly on so many parts of the world, including sea, land and air that it can hardly fail to offer some point of interest to all readers.

"International Delusions, G. M. Stratton. No one who reads even the headlines of the paper these days can fail to be interested in this book by a distinguished psychologist, who treats the whole problem of war from his trained and specialized point of view. Too much attention cannot be paid to books of this kind, especially books which have been written obviously to interest the every day reader and which make clear the part played by prejudice and inertia in forming public opinion. I recommend this book heartily to everyone who is interested in overcoming the influences which lead to prejudice and antagonism whether personal, national or international.

"An Atlas of Current Affairs, J. F. Horrabin. I venture to say there is no one who does not feel confused at times as to the new nations and their governments created at the end of the World War and there are, of course, some of us who have not so clear a picture as we might have of older and established countries. This atlas is of a special kind compiled for the very purpose of clarifying our ideas along these lines through a series of 74 maps each accompanied by a brief explanation. It is worth reading straight through and invaluable for reference.

"Land Without Shade," Hans Helfritz. To those of us who live in the shadow of the skyscrapers of New York, this book came as an immense surprise for among the unusual illustrations is a panorama of skyscrapers still standing, although built hundreds of years ago, in a remote portion of the desert in southern Arabia. The author describes present day life against this extraordinary historical background and shows us the people living in the desert today. Since the World War, this remote country of Yemen has taken on new significance as a part of the world of nations, so that it is of unusual interest to learn more of it through this book of adventure.

"Desolate Marches, L. M. Nesbitt. This is the personal story of an engineer, who went to Venezuela to do pioneer work in the interests of an American oil company. As the title indicates his work took him into wild parts of the country, where he encountered strange conditions and forgotten peoples, but it also brought him in contact with seaport towns reached by hidden trails through the jungles. The author was quick to respond to all kinds of new sights and impressions and records them with sympathetic understanding. Books on Venezuela are rare and it is therefore a special satisfaction to be able to include this one in the Alcove collection.

Frank W. Cortright has sold for B. R. Colfelt, to F. R. Williams, a Colonial residence and outbuildings on four acres of land, situated on the easterly side of Righters Mill road, north of its intersection with Hagysford road, in Penn Valley. The residence contains fourteen rooms and three baths, with two-car garage. The purchasers will remodel the property at a total cost of $50,000.00. It is adjacent to the estates of Percival Roberts, Charles Chauncy and I. Tyson Morris.

WHEN TREES GROW THIRSTY

No life can exist without water. A tree must drink huge quantities in order to obtain food, to grow, to keep cool.

In the soil are a number of mineral substances which form food for trees. Small amounts of these dissolved in water are gathered in by the openings of the fine root fibers. This is carried through the roots, up the trunk, along the branches to the leaves, where the sun works a chemical change on it and most of the water is evaporated. Flowing downward again the converted food builds up wood and bark, root and branch, leaf and flower and fruit.

The constant circulation of water in a tree, up through the sapwood and down through the inner bark, makes a cooling water jacket much like the cooling system in an automobile radiator. Evaporation through the tiny pores of bark and leaves cools the tree as well as the air about it. It is a surprising fact that many times its weight in water is evaporated from a tree during its lifetime.

Besides being one of the greatest users of water, trees are wonderful regulators of water. They sop up the rainfalls in such a way as to minimize the danger of flood.

about the Garden

Well-Formed Turf
Frees Lawn of Weeds

Turf authorities agree that the best permanent protection against weeds in the lawn is a vigorous, well-formed sod or turf. Young weeds have difficulty in gaining a foothold in such a turf.

In those portions of the lawn where weeds are already established it is desirable to dig them carefully from the lawn. Then by following a systematic and sound lawn maintenance program of seeding, feeding, watering and mowing they can be kept under control.

Experiments prove that weeds thrive where grass is thin or in a weakened condition. Starved or half-starved grass has little chance of combatting the growth of weeds. A thickly matted turf of vigorous grass, having a strong root system, is needed to eliminate them.

WEEDS FLOURISH IN A LAWN WHERE GRASS HAS NOT BEEN FERTILIZED.

CROSS SECTION OF A LAWN THAT HAS BEEN GIVEN PLANT FOOD INDUCING A VIGOROUS ROOT GROWTH THUS CROWDING OUT WEEDS.

Such a turf is not easy to penetrate—the weed is handicapped. The mat of well developed roots crowds around the roots of the weed and thereby hinders its growth, all of which has a tendency to choke out the weeds.

By mowing often and regularly the weed is prevented from making any substantial top growth and from going to seed. Each cutting will "bleed" and weaken the weed and being further handicapped by the well developed turf and roots produced by proper feeding of the grass the weed is eventually eliminated.

When building a new lawn your first consideration after the actual job of grading and seeding is over is to develop this heavily matted sod. Quick growth, made during the cool periods of spring, is the objective, so the lawn will be strong enough to withstand the scorching sun of July and August. Assist this growth by applying four pounds of complete plant food per 100 square feet, and working it well into the soil. Then later in the spring make an additional application of two pounds and wash it down into the soil. Get seeds of hardy annuals and vegetables into the ground as soon as possible.

Keep careful watch over your seedlings in flats, so they do not dry out, or become crowded.

Tender plants in flats should be kept away from the hot sun until they are strong, then given the direct light gradually.

Several of the All-American selections for 1936 are ideal window-box subjects, especially petunia Rose Gem and nasturtium Golden Globe.

An economical way to plant a cutting garden in the vegetable patch is to buy mixtures of annual flower seeds and plant them in rows or beds.

Girl Scout News

We are making history on the Main Line this year—Girl Scout history—we are establishing the first day camp on the Main Line! It will be unique in the fact that there will be two weeks in succession (four days each week) instead of eight days in eight separate weeks.

Day camp is an ideal way to continue scout development. The girls can concentrate on all of the outdoor phases such as open-air cooking; mapping and trail signs; nature with all its infinite possibilities and signaling.

Our plan is to use natural materials for handicraft as much as possible. There will be additional material supplied of the simplest kind. If the girls decide to follow more elaborate or expensive plans, arrangements may be made with the unit leader.

Those who attended the Main Line Girl Scouts' Own will remember what a beautiful spot has been offered to us for our day camp. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Longstreth have very generously given the use of their estate in Bryn Mawr and have done everything in their power to co-operate with the District Committee in its planning. This is one reason why we should turn out one hundred per cent to insure the success of Dove Mill Day Camp, in order to justify the interest and faith in Girl Scouting which the Longstreths have shown.

Mrs. Henry D. Booth, Jr., who is Registrar for Dove Mill Day Camp, says that she has been successful in enlisting the services of many leaders and examiners to help with the program. The days are Monday to Thursday inclusive and the dates are July 13, 14, 15 and 16 and July 20, 21, 22 and 23.

The general program which will be followed in all probability is 10 A. M., opening; 10:15, interest groups; 12 noon, lunch; 1 P. M., rest hour; 2 P. M., hobbies, and 4 P. M., goodnight circle.

It is suggested that a "nosebag lunch" be brought the first day. Plans may be made in each unit for further sessions. Please do not bring milk from home, as there are no facilities for keeping it sweet. Arrangements can be made with a local milk man if milk is desired to be delivered just before it is used. Girls should bring cup, plate, knife, fork and spoon if needed.

The drinking water is tested so that we may live up to "Minimum Standards for Girl Scout Camps." A first aid person is at the day camp at all times.

In the event of a definitely rainy day, the equipment will not permit following the day camp program. In the event of a sudden shower there is a shelter to keep the girls dry. There are no facilities for swimming which is in no way unusual.

We plan to keep a Log for a permanent record of the eight happy days in camp and as a record to be sent to Philadelphia headquarters for study. Each girl may use her camera to illustrate the Log.

Mrs. William A. Dyer, of Ardmore, is in charge of transportation. Her number is Ardmore 1867. If there are any cars available on the day camp dates, please notify her.

The Day Camp Director, Mrs. Carl Axel Thaysen, of Narberth, is at present in training at the National Girl Scout School at Camp Macy, near Briarcliff, New York, where a comprehensive course is offered to the volunteer who agrees to act as day camp director. Mrs. Thaysen's telephone number is Narberth 4073-R.

Philadelphia headquarters is offering special courses to assist volunteers who agree to serve on the staff of Dove Mill Day Camp. These dates and subjects are as follows: Outdoor Cooking, Miss Harriet Dickson, Thursday, May 28, and Monday, June 1, from 8 P. M. to 10 P. M., at 311 Juniper street; Dramatics, Miss Kathleen Taylor, Monday, June 8, and Wednesday, June 10, same hours and same place; Folk Dancing and Singing, Miss Ruth Stephenson, Monday, June 15, and Wednesday, June 17, same hours and same place. It is hoped that Mrs. Thomas will conduct a course in Nature around the middle of June and that a Handicraft course will be given before the end of June. We have been fortunate in securing Mrs. S. Gordon Smyth, of Merwood Park, to teach Sketching at the Dove Mill Day Camp.

The following is quoted from "Copy" which is a monthly bulletin sent out to the Girl Scout Publicity Committees all over the United States by Girl Scouts, Inc., New York City: "We award the dramatic palm to Philadelphia which recently staged an international pageant on request of the girls themselves and gave them a good time from start to finish, incidentally entrancing the audience. It started with a folk festival in each district of the city (the Main Line was represented by Ardmore 93 for dancing and Narberth 125 for singing) the girls doing everything in the way of costuming, selection of program items and other matters, and the council members, by invitation, coming to act as judges of the various acts."

The Main Line Brownie Revel including the St. Asaph's (Cynwyd), Baldwin School and Narberth packs took place at 3.30 P. M. on Tuesday, on the Baldwin School grounds in Bryn Mawr. Mrs. Edmund A. Whitting, Brownie chairman on the Main Line District 8 Girl Scout Committee was in charge of the program.

A District Senior Patrol is planned for any interested Girl Scouts of Junior High age and older. The first meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, June 10, in the Girl Scout wing of the Community building on Windsor avenue, in Narberth, when various projects will be outlined.

Girl Scout Troop 8

Narberth Troop 8, Miss Christine Mahl as captain, is planning an overnight hike on Friday, June 12, at the Folwell Farm, in Maryland. There will be three preliminary day hikes on the regular troop meeting time, so that the new scouts may receive training in camp craft. Each girl who goes on the overnight hike must attend at least one of these preliminary hikes.

The girls of Troop 8 had a splendid time on the first hike of their camp training course last Tuesday afternoon and evening. Betty Spasholtz and a group of the younger girls started from the scout house at 4.30 and laid the trail to the chosen spot on Cherry lane.

After the arrival of the rest of the troop the girls proceeded with their work. Several of the tenderfoot girls passed the test for second-class fire building. Phyllis Folwell and Shirley Vincent taught the inexperienced girls how to pitch a lean-to. Among the interesting nature specimens found was a baby robin and a butterfly.

The group started home at 8 o'clock after a merry supper and a few songs. Next week will be the last meeting before the week-end trip and all the girls planning to go must be present.

Graduate From Sayward

Catherine Geuting, Merion; Alice Phillips, Bala-Cynwyd, and Dorothy Smith and Melita Anne Turner, both of Overbrook, were among those graduating this Thursday evening from Miss Sayward's School in Overbrook. Dr. Harold Clarke Goddard, of Swarthmore College, gave the address.

Miss Geuting, who is senior president, presided at Class Night exercises Wednesday, when the two art prizes were awarded to Miss Phillips and Katherine Seidle, Wynnewood.

Ardmore Postoffice Bids Due June 25

Specifications May Be Obtained
by Interested Contractors or Organizations

SITE ON ARDMORE AVE.

Sealed proposals in duplicate will be publicly opened in the office of the Procurement Division, Public Works Branch, Washington, D. C., at 1 P. M. June 25 for furnishing all labor and materials and performing all work for construction of the United States post office, to be built on the former Autocar lot on Ardmore avenue at Athens avenue, Ardmore.

Upon application to the above office one set of drawings and specifications will be supplied free to each general contractor interested in submitting a proposal. The drawings and specifications must be returned. Additional sets may be obtained at a cost of $5 per set.

A set may also be obtained by any interested Chamber of Commerce or other organization which will guarantee to make them available for any contractor or subcontractor.

Blueprints for the proposed new post office were received this week by Ardmore Postmaster D. J. McDonough.

Patents Granted to Main Line Inventors

Three local inventors were included in the grants announced by the United States Patent Office at Washington, D. C.

Those receiving patents are Gilbert E. Seil, of Cynwyd; Philip S. Malickson, Bala, and George E. Bartol, Jr., Wynnewood.

Seil was given credit by patent examiners for nine new ideas in connection with a high temperature refractory cement. His patent was issued under an application filed October 12, 1935. He has not assigned his patent for manufacture or exploitation.

Malickson's invention is a portable housing for a combined sound and motion picture projector. Patent examiners allowed one claim for originality, under an application filed September 29, 1934. The patent is unassigned.

Five claims for new ideas were allowed on the invention of a cutting tool, invented by Bartol. Application for the patent was filed September 19, 1935. The patent has been assigned to the C. Howard Hunt Pen Company, of Camden, N. J.

Midget Auto Racing

The small cousin of the larger racing car, which was popular in the West a few years ago, before it took the East by storm, will be greatly improved upon here in the East by the forerunner Ralph Hankison. When attending the Indianapolis five hundred mile race he induced many of the leading western drivers to sign up for the racing which will open one of the largest midget tracks in the East on Tuesday evening, June 9, at the Philadelphia Stadium.

Holman Graduates Eight

The Rev. Allan MacLachlan Frew, pastor of the Ardmore Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker at 4 o'clock this afternoon when eight students will be graduated from the Holman School, of Ardmore. The exercises will be at the Merion War Tribute House, Merion.

Miss Elizabeth W. Braley will present the diplomas to Nancy Payntor Baldi, college preparatory; Marie Louise Aman, Marion Westernman Hook and Marjorie Wentworth, general; Phyllis Ann Baxter, Nancy Mayhew Fulton, Bette Sundh Persons and Jane Kemble Weihman, certificates in English and allied subjects.

This paper welcomes letters on timely topics of local interest.

Friends' Central School Graduation This Evening

Commencement week at Friends' Central School, Overbrook, was observed with class day exercises yesterday and an Elizabethan pageant, with Helen Stabler as queen, on Tuesday. Tonight the Honorable Roland S. Morris, former ambassador to Japan, will deliver the address to the graduates.

A humorous feature of class day was the individual class presentations made by Emily Edgerton, Marion Snyder and Charles Snyder, all of Narberth, and Douglas Neal, of Aldan.

Cynwyd Youths Honored at Episcopal Graduation

Two Bala-Cynwyd youths were signally honored Monday evening when forty-five seniors were graduated at Episcopal Academy, Merion.

Benjamin Lee Bird, of Upland terrace, class president, editor of the Tabula, academy year book, president of the Forestry Club, vice-president of Jun-o, the debating club, and winner of the freshman scholarship to Harvard University, was awarded the class of 1912 medal.

Robert McDonald, of Highland avenue, the school's only four-letter man, football, basketball, baseball and track, was given the Bob Scott Memorial Cup and also the Eddie Collins bat for making the greatest number of baseruns. He was basketball captain.

Others from this community to win awards were:

Society Colonial Daughters Medical—William R. Halbrook, Merion.
Art Prize—Moorhead Phillips, Merion.

Special Awards—Richard C. Seltzer, Merion; James B. Chandler, Wynnewood.

Appeals Granted

Among appeals granted last week by the Lower Merion Board of Adjustment were:

An appeal by Clayton McElroy, Jr., for a permit for alterations to a single family dwelling at Lodges lane and Kent road, Cynwyd.

An appeal by Harry Bernardo for a special exception to make alterations and additions to his property at Madison and Springfield avenues, Peneoyd.

An appeal by N. S. Ludington for a permit to construct an indoor tennis court on Old Gulph road, opposite the intersection of Old Gulph road and McClenaghans Mill road, General Wayne district.

Mrs. Marie deMorat Smith

Mrs. Marie deMorat Smith, 63, died on May 29. She had been ill since Easter. Mrs. Smith was the wife of Arthur Dearborn Smith, of Remington road, Wynnewood, and is also survived by four children, Miss Marie deMorat Smith, Miss Ellanore Smith, Mrs. Francis H. Scheetz and Arthur Dearborn Smith, Jr.

Chosen A. A. A. Officer

Arthur Dearborn Smith, Remington road, Wynnewood, has been elected vice-president of the American Automobile Association of Philadelphia.

-SPORTLETS-

Saturday, June 6—Suburban Inter-scholastics at Norristown (postponed from last Saturday).

Thursday, June 11—Philadelphia Horse Show at Philadelphia Country Club, Bala (June 11, 12, 13, 14).

In Tuesday's twilight encounter the Narberth Boys' Club trounced Cynwyd, 4-1, to go into an undisputed second place in the league.

George Nellings' Gladwyne team of the Main Line League has signed Will Bassett and Harvey Cook, Lower Merion High's battery.

Episcopal Academy won the fiftieth annual interacademic track and field meet with a total of 60½ points. Penn Charter scored 46½ and Haverford School, 33. Episcopal piled up its tallies in the quarter, half and mile, taking both firsts and seconds in these events. . . . Episcopal's athletes enjoyed their eleventh annual varsity banquet Monday night.

Haverford High, with Bill Turkington on the mound, shut out Abington, 7-6, last Friday. Today H. T. H. S. goes to Cheltenham to play a postponed and final season's game. If the Brookline boys win, the Suburban No. 1 Conference title is theirs. If they lose, they'll have to play Norristown for the decision. The betting is that this is the last game. . . . Norristown took a close but thorough shaving from Lansdowne, 5-4, while Lower Merion trounced Cheltenham, 9-3. Will Bassett held Cheltenham to six hits and smacked a homer himself.

On the Middle States tennis team representing this district in the Sears Cup play at Germantown Cricket Club today and tomorrow are No. 4, Captain Anne Townsend, of Merion C. C., and No. 5, Cecile ("Babe") Bowes, Cynwyd Club.

In their annual baseball game at Ardmore Tuesday, Lower Merion defeated Radnor High, 4-2. Outright eight to five, the Maroon scored two runs on errors by Sulpizio in the third, then in the fourth Pitcher Wes Goss doubled to score two men before him.

In last week's games, West Manayunk took the lead by beating Cynwyd, 5-4, while the Narberth Boys' Club went into a tie for second place with Cynwyd by trouncing the Ardmore Warriors, 7-2. . . . Sunday the Narberth Boys' Club lost an independent game to the East Germantown Republicans, 9-7.

14 New Disease Cases

A considerable drop in the list of new contagious diseases was reported in Lower Merion Township last week by Health Officer Marvin E. Reynolds. Fourteen new patients were reported, all having what are termed minor diseases.

Firemen Hold Meeting

Tristan B. duMarais, president, presided at a routine meeting of the Narberth Fire Company directors Monday night.

"N. T. G.'s" Revue at Earle

Every Tuesday night for thirty weeks, on a coast-to-coast hookup through NBC, announcer Jimmy Wallington and Nelson Case have introduced N. T. G., whose famous girls and comedy show are now at the Earle.

N. T. G., or Nils Thor Grandlund, has probably done more to help chorus girls become stars than anyone else. In his company here will be Rita Rio, meteoric new picture star, whom N. T. G. discovered two years ago when she was 15 and skyrocketed to instant fame.

On the screen will be seen "The Law in Her Hands," with Margaret Lindsey and Glenda Farrell, supported by Warren Hull and Lyle Talbot.

Service Station Lease Won by Maguire Bros.

Yesterday marked the formal opening of Narberth's new Forest Service Station, at Haverford and Forest avenues, where Harry B. Wall's home stood for half a century. The proprietors are George and Joseph Maguire.

George (Spike) Maguire was a Lower Merion football, basketball and baseball player, attended Villanova College, and has for years been active in basketball and minstrel shows of the Narberth Boys' Club. His brother Joe was once weighmaster of the Narberth Coal Company. Both have lived in Narberth nearly all their lives. They won the lease of the station from the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company over a field of what is said to have been over thirty applicants.

The Wall home, a frame structure, built by William L. Owens in 1888, was torn down considerably faster than it was erected. The work of removing the old house and replacing with the modern, well-set-back service station, has been done in five weeks.

Mr. Wall continues his plumbing and heating business, in the frame shop to the rear of the station, where he took over the business from Mr. Owens in 1901.

Drexel Honors Co-Ed Athletes With Charms

Among the girl athletes recently honored at the annual banquet of the Woman's Athletic Association of Drexel Institute were several from this section.

Virginia Mertz, 20 East Newfield way, Bala-Cynwyd, junior, received a charm for amassing 500 points in sports. She has also been elected president of the association.

Julia Markle, Summit Penn Valley, junior, was given a gold rifle pin for having been on the rifle team for two years.

Helen Sellers, 763 Beacom lane, Merion, was awarded a tennis letter.

Sullivan and Meaney to be Sentenced Today

Sentence will be imposed today at Norristown by Judge Corson on Dennis Sullivan, Rosemont, and Ralph Meaney, Ardmore, on charges of violation of the election laws. The pair pleaded guilty Monday afternoon to falsifying signatures to a petition for Democratic Committeewoman for Dorothy Campbell, Wynnewood.

Detective George Bennett investigated the case for the District Attorney's office and said Sullivan admitted writing the name of a number of voters in the district on the petition. He said that Sullivan incriminated Meaney.

Neither defendant was called to testify. Attorney Julian W. Barnard represented Meaney and Attorney H. Lester Haws was counsel for Sullivan. Character testimony will be given Friday.
